We designed game situations as if they were in a mixed world, these are the two situations in real high school everyday life in Japan, and the situations shown in Japanese animations, which sometimes contain very fantastic elements. The party things you might see in this game will be really visible in Japanese high school. In this sense, in this game, you can experience the simulated high school everyday life in Japan as a student. This game is not an action and shooting game, and so on, but a simulator. Although we have made violent actions and elements valid, there is no description of the blood in the game. People in the game world just fainted, but he's not going to die. The concept of death doesn't exist in this game, that people who pass out wake up the next day and hate you. You can do the following actions in the game. You can control and change 4 players at the same stage (the two are valid after watching ADS.) choose avator cloth to talk to students and other peoples select the sentence of talking make friends and lovers attend school hours to buy something and use it alone or enter Use sushi-bar money to earn from the car-restore shop (ads. shown.) drive a car until you have to breakride the attractions at the amusement park and more. The above actions that you have taken will affect and simulate the game in different situations. This game is not over. Please make the situations as you like and find your favorite way to play the game. We hope you enjoy the game. The content of the game will be added when you made the new game elements. The additional content will appear as a new environment on this site.* NOTIFICATIONAlthing we used the character models AOI and TAICHI in this game, AOI is a NON-FREE tool and TAICHI is a free tool. Everyone who wants to see the content of the game and so on can use these tools. Dec 5, 2020 Version 1.037.12 • Autumn dresses added (men and women, elementary school students) • Hat (hair accessory) • Element: Add a bag • Add props: Mushrooms[Garden], enemy mushrooms [Other] • IRS construction completed So I think you need to add a variety of prom dresses and add a prom event to the game as later, but every night ., and add more clothes for the little boy and girl Maybe add more kids that you can control and more prom dresses for men. Maybe it's an option or a button to control another character, as if you're a Harry Potter LEGO game with the wii system. It's just a thought, and you can make tubs and all sorts of interactive where you can lock the doors and open and close them on your own, but there's a way where if you don't want to, you can make the mode out. Maybe more uniforms? And maybe even more rides at the amusement park. Maybe add a different place on the map than a club where you can order different drinks and snacks. And you could add some club clothes, not really telltale, but just normal clothes that a club can wear. Maybe all the students at the club a couple of times a week and I think that would make the game better than it is now! I think we should also be able to save on building progress, so DONT will lose the working hours of building houses and such. I feel like you can do a kind of animation of sorts where if you want your own child to go dark and say it the next day and go and buy a test or something like that. Just my tone of ideas, but please keep up the good work! You're doing great. So overall this game is amazing! I like to play when I'm bored with roblox, even if I want to play roblox! This is my first chance. And I also like how we can play without internet and now we are not building. (if that was the idea when you added the shapes and furniture) Like I said, it's amazing overall, but I have some update ideas! I still love the game and it has to be my first option. I just want to see this game. My first idea is to make wallets. So you know there's a bag in the house where Yes, i did. Btw I'm not entirely sure if wallet is not even in the game, but if not it's a good good anyway where you see the bag when we pick it up, can u add a button on the right then do it so we can change it into a wallet or book bag. The second idea is similar to the first, but the bags .. Can we have a different kind? Like mini bags or the big variety! My third idea is the laundry room. Again, I'm not entirely sure the laundry is in play. The laundry room would make it so realistic. The laundry room is great décor and such a good household:) Also, if you add laundry room you may have to see what the actual clothes are washed. My fourth idea, and the last one,

I'd like to add a limo! Limos are so beautiful and it would be awesome to have them in this type of game! I also know that there is some school jealousy rp and a limousine pulling up the school would also be amazing!-Regards, Jasmine! This game is very fun and interesting! I could play this for hours! but still missing some things in my opinion for example would be greatly appreciated if you could raise a family, move in and get married. The other thing is more characters to control, sometimes it's hard getting a lot of people like the castle telling them to follow, but if you could control these characters the game would definitely be more fun! the other thing you can do is talk to someone. as if your talking to an animal you can pet them or give them treats it could be similar to other people like shaky hands or tall five shirts. All things an airport! you don't have to go anywhere really, but it would be nice to have one. Even an example of love fog, it's like little fog, but everyone around will be your lover! It may be this kind of cheating, but it would be funny. oh my suggestions for the police are they could be riding around town and checking things or there could be burglars at night time that accidentally attacked a house. you can also work as a hospital or an office! Well the last thing was more people on the street! more crowded on weekends than on weekdays. these are my suggestions and if you don't get something from them I'll be sure to tell more friends about this game!
